

The Latest on Education for a New Era at Your Fingertips
 Are you always looking for the latest information from the Supreme Education Council and the independent schools? Then be sure to visit the SEC's website, www.education.gov.qa, on a regular basis. Here you will find the most up-to-date information on education reform in Qatar. The award winning website, available in both Arabic and English, provides information in an interactive and interesting manner, including not only valuable text, but also videos, audio files and photographs.

Some of the most popular sections on the website include:

What's New

the most up-to-date news on Education for a New Era.

School News

the latest on what is happening inside the independent schools.

In the Spotlight:

provides in-depth coverage of an event or issue under discussion at a particular point in time. This month it highlights HE Sheikha Al Mahmoud, Minister of Education and Higher Education and Secretary General of the SEC participation in Unesco's International Education Conference.

SEC Blog

an interactive forum of discussion on a variety of education topics.

Frequently Asked Questions

a one stop location for some of the most commonly asked questions from teachers, parents, students and the community.

Gulf Education News

the latest news in education from around the region.

Visit www.english.education.gov.qa everyday!